

Cufflinks Spring - water is the most important element on earth maintaining life, which makes it full of symbolism and myths that reached us from the antiquity. The idea behind these cufflinks is neither a chaotic, nor still, deep or dark water, but just the opposite - a gushing, moving spring full of energy, light and clarity!

It was always believed that a cold spring gushing from the depths of the earth had special powers protecting health, restoring strength and even making dreams come true!

Springs flowing from the deep were (and still are) considered magical and holy places - all cultures and religions shrouded them in mystery. Flowing water symbolized life and was a symbol of happiness, movement, wisdom, and strength.
