

Pendant Heart is a protector of childhood. It is an amulet engulfing the meaning of love - if there is one thing that can be so - today this is it!

Two hearts - a little one for the daughter, and a big one that contains so much more than our eye could ever see! We are talking about a mother's love, and the boundless miracle that is a mother's heart. No wonder that among various ornaments in the world of this magnificent piece, rich with forms and patterns, two little birds live comfortably together.